Out of Argentine Prison

Olga Tastes Freedom

By Rick Carroll

Olga Talamante, 27, the California farm worker's daughter who spent 16 months in an Argentine prison, looked vaguely uncomfortable yesterday with her newfound freedom.

"It's nice to be free," she said in the midst of constant interruptions as she sat over untouched coffee and Mexican pastry in her family's Gilroy home.

It was hard to get a word in edgewise. The phone rarely stopped ringing, a parade of friends, old and new, streamed through the front door and she kissed again and again her father's cheek for the benefit of yet another photographer.

A small woman in a pink blouse and blue denim trousers, she seemed weary, a trifle disconcerted and somewhat incredulous as the joyous reunion scene unfolded around her.

Four days ago, inside a tiny Argentine prison, where she said she had been tortured, and abused during her confinement on political subversion charges, she had feared for her life.

A military junta had seized control of the government, ousted President Isabel Peron and reinstated the death penalty for anyone convicted of subversion.

On Thursday night ("I'm still mixed up on the dates") the military officials "came to my cell in a van, placed me in handcuffs and took me away."

"You're going now," they said, but they didn't tell me where," she said.

"I had hoped I was going home."

Miss Talamante was flown by small plane to Buenos Aires and released last Saturday to her relief.

The phone ran at 8 that night at the Talamante home on Gavilan court on the edge of the vast garlic fields, her father, Eduardo, works.

"Olga is free," a State Department official told her joyous mother, Refugio.

"I still can't believe it," Mrs. Talamante said, scarcely taking her eyes off her daughter.

Her husband emerged from the bathroom with a clean-shaven chin and a wide grin. He'd grown a thick beard, vowing not to shave it until his only daughter was home safe. His wife rubbed his smooth cheek and smiled.

A University of California at Santa Cruz honors graduate in Latin American affairs, Miss Talamante earned money picking garlic to visit Argentina the summer after her graduation in 1974.

Her ordeal began at a Sunday afternoon barbecue a block from the Azul police station when Olga and her friends were arrested on what she maintains were "ridiculous" charges.

"They said we had subversive literature and guns of war, two .45 caliber handguns which she said, "police used to point on other persons they wanted to seize."

"I was kept in the police station four days and nights and was beaten, kicked and tortured."

"I was undressed, tied to a bed with my arms and legs open and they taped my eyes."

"They wanted me to talk, eight men asked me questions. They used two cattle prods and kept shocking me until I signed a 'confession' which was as ridiculous as the charges."

But yesterday, reality was her home in Gilroy, the ringing phone and the warm embraces.

Freed woman fears renewal of tyranny

By Larry D. Hatfield

Olga Talamante, the Gilroy woman who spent 17 terror-filled months in an Argentine prison, says she fears the military coup there will make living conditions in Argentina even worse for the poor.

"I'm really worried about the people now," Miss Talamante said in an interview yesterday as she spent her first day of freedom with family, friends and a barrage of telephone calls from the media.

"I don't think the new government will make any difference," she said, noting that the first thing the military did when it overthrew Isabel Peron last Wednesday was to impose total censorship and cut off travel (since restored) to and from Argentina.

The same sort of repression was typical of the overthrown Peronist regime, Miss Talamante noted.

The 26-year-old University of California honor graduate admittedly had little time to assess the new political climate in Argentina as she was whisked out of the country in the aftermath of the U.S. government's official recognition of the new military government.

She was spirited out of Argentina (arriving in San Francisco Sunday night) almost without a word being spoken to her, Miss Talamante said.

"I was never told I was being brought home, not until I got to the airport which was two days after I had left the Azul jail (Thursday)," she said.

She was flown by small plane from Azul, a cattle town 250 miles southwest of Buenos Aires, to the Argentine capital, then placed in a federal jail.

"I was kept overnight in jail there ... then in the afternoon of the next day, (I was taken) to the airport. Before that, I really didn't know where I was being taken."

She was isolated from other prisoners throughout the trip, she said, and her guards were ordered not to talk to her. Nor did she see a U.S. consular official until she got to the airport.

Despite that, Miss Talamante said, Sunday, the day she arrived home, was the "the best day of my life."

She and 13 others had been arrested while attending a party in Azul on Nov. 10, 1974. She had been in Argentina for a year, working as a tutor in a community center in Azul "helping the kids."

The Argentine government claimed she and the 13 Argentines were members of a leftwing terrorist group and were in possession of subversive literature.

Miss Talamante denied she and her friends had guns (evidence presented at her trial, in fact, indicated the guns were planted by police) and said that under the Peron government "any literature at all was considered subversive literature."

Handcuffed and blindfolded, they were held without food for four days in the Azul jail, during which time she and the others were tortured, she said.

A confession later used against her in her trial was extracted, she said, when police applied electric prods to her breasts and genitals, first while she was clothed, then while she was nude and tied spread-eagle on a bed.

It was almost 10 months later when she was finally formally tried and sentenced to three years in prison. Before and since, a defense committee in the Bay Area and a handful of U.S. senators and representatives were active in pressuring the State Department to press for her release.

Details of what diplomatic maneuvers actually brought about the release were not divulged. Miss Talamante said the U.S. Embassy officials who met her at the Buenos Aires airport just told her that they had been told to go to the airport. They did not elaborate, she said.

Miss Talamante was guarded in her criticism of American consular officials in Argentina. Her supporters in the U.S. have bitterly complained that U.S. officials were doing little to help her.

She received an estimated 14 visits over the 17 months of imprisonment from consular officials, she said. "Every time they came to see me, they told me they really couldn't do anything about getting me out ... that they were doing everything they could."

Though she was arrested on Nov. 10, she said she was not visited by an American official until a day or two after her birthday on Dec. 3. It was still several days later, she said, that consular officials sent a doctor to look at her injuries from the beatings.

"Of course there were no marks on my body by that time," she said.

Miss Talamante was derisive of the suggestion that she was involved with a terrorist group. Fellow workers at the community center were Young Peronists, she said, adding that because of a state of siege declared shortly before her arrest, "they and people involved in all types of community work" became suspected subversives.

As an example of the government's paranoia about opposition, Miss Talamante cited a 60-year-old fellow prisoner at Azul. The woman could not read or write and was quite sick, she said, but "her 17-year-old granddaughter was in a Young Peronist group so she's being accused of being a terrorist!"

Miss Talamante said she does not have immediate plans for the future. Friends said she is expected to work with organizations trying to curb repression against the Argentina people and to help political prisoners there and elsewhere.

In the meantime, she's adjusting to life without bars on the window. "I'm just enjoying being here and being with my family," she said.

'The best day of my life' she's home after ordeal

Special to the Examiner

GILROY. — Olga Talamante, the 26-year-old University of California honors graduate who spent more than a year in Argentine jails, was safely home today in this farming community.

She arrived here yesterday at the head a motorcade of friends, political supporters and a tearfully happy family. But before she went into seclusion, she repeatedly charged that her South American captors, tortured, and beat her before locking her away for 16 months on trumped-up charges of political subversion.

"This is the best day of my life," she said at San Francisco Airport yesterday as she was greeted by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eduardo Talamante, her three brothers and a cheering crowd of friends.

"Right now I just want to go home, get reacquainted with my family and rest."

Her ordeal under the regime of Isabel Peron began in Azul, a cattle town of about 20,000, on Nov. 11, 1974, when she was seized with a number of Argentine students and charged with possession of two guns and "subversive literature."

Miss Talamante, a naturalized U.S. citizen and a graduate of the University of California at Santa Cruz, originally had gone to Argentina in 1973 on a student trip. She remained there and worked as a tutor in a missionary school.

"We never had any guns," she said. "We never had any literature. They were planted by the police. The same two guns were used to plant on other persons they wanted to seize."

As for the allegedly subversive literature, "at that time almost anything not printed by the government was considered subversive." Her arrest came four days after Mrs. Peron declared a "state of siege" existed in the country and prohibited meetings of five or more persons.

"I was blindfolded and tortured for two days and the police forced me to sign a confession." Electric shocks were administered to sensitive parts of her body, she said, including her groin and breasts.

the way they wanted," she said, "just enough (was written) to stop the beatings."

It wasn't until last September that she was tried, found guilty and sentenced to three years in prison. "It was a trial on paper, not like here. There were no witnesses and we saw the judge only once."

Argentine officials accused Miss Talamante of being a member of a left-wing terrorist group that had claimed responsibility for the deaths of a U.S. consular official and more than 12 Argentinians.

Miss Talamante denied the charges yesterday and said her friends were part of a Peronist youth group that broke with the government "when it became suppressive."

Her release came suddenly Saturday after more than a year of appeals from 24 congressmen and 7 U.S. senators and a wave of protests by Bay Area supporters.

Until she was aboard a jet bound for New York, she said she had no inkling that Isabel Peron had been ousted in a coup. She wasn't told she was being released until after she arrived at the Buenos Aires airport.

Once Miss Talamante was safely inside her parents' ranch-style tract home here, dozens of well wishers streamed in and out the front door. But a number of supporters inside the house, who declined to identify themselves, brusquely refused to allow an Examiner reporter and photographer inside.

Their reasons, they said, were that the newspaper had refused to publicize Miss Talamante's plight while she languished in prison. Her supporters also refused to allow access to Miss Talamante's parents, either in person or by phone.

The Examiner, in fact was the first North American newspaper to report extensively on Miss Talamante's arrest, mistreatment and confinement. The newspaper has carried numerous stories on her plight.

Examiner reporters also interceded with the State Department in Washington and the U.S. Embassy in Buenos Aires in attempts to spur U.S. action.

U.S. Woman's Ordeal in an Argentine Prison

By Paul Heath Hoefle
San Francisco Chronicle Foreign Service
Buenos Aires

Since November, 1974, Olga Talamante, a Chicana from Gilroy, has been imprisoned in Azul, Argentina.

Last September she was convicted and sentenced to three years in prison along with a number of Argentine youths for alleged violation of Argentina's state of siege laws.

According to Talamante's lawyer, Dr. Liprandi, and to American Embassy officials in Buenos Aires, chances are good that she will be released and deported to the United States by the end of this month or early in March.

"The deportation papers are already drawn up" one Embassy official said.

Azul is a normally pleasant town of 50,000 inhabitants, one of the several affluent urban oases which dot the vast cereal and cattle producing pampas of the province of Buenos Aires.

Its tranquil cobblestone streets are lined with peach trees, whose large yellow flowers heavily perfume the still summer air. The town exudes an Argentine variation of midwestern flat and orderly propriety.

One end of town is occupied by the Azul army garrison, one of the most important military bases in Argentina, though at first glance it appears to be a well-tended country club.

A mile or so outside of town, in Azul's semi-industrial slum area, is the local prison where Talamante has been held for the past 15 months.

In sharp contrast to the town and the military base, Azul prison is a ramshackle, crumbling structure in an unkempt setting. Chickens, donkeys and stray dogs wander around the dirt paths which lead up to the prison doors. Shabbily dressed guards come and go on antique bicycles.

The shanty homes scattered around the prison area mark where Talamante's troubles began. She had been working with leftist Peronist youths from Azul doing political organizing among slumdwellers. This group of activists came to be regarded as troublemakers.

Talamante, whose Mexican-American parents are former migrant farm laborers, had done some organizing for Cesar Chavez's United Farm Workers while attending the University of California at Santa Cruz.

She was invited by political friends to visit Azul in 1973 during which time the leftist Peronist government of Hector Campora took power.

In an effort to interview Talamante in prison, where she shares a cell block with about 24 female prisoners, this reporter touched several bases. Legally, however, she is only allowed to be visited by her lawyer, Embassy officials (one of whom visited her last on January 28, nearly four months since the previous visit) or next of kin.

It was easy to find Talamante's former defense lawyer's house on Calle Irigoyen: it was the only one on the block missing its front wall, the result of a plastic bomb blast on December 11.

Dr. Perez Abraham, a young left-oriented local lawyer and other people involved in the trial of the 12 youths, have been victims of bombings, shootings and death threats by ultra-right wing vigilantes determined to discourage leftist activity in Azul.

Convinced that the evidence,

OLGA TALAMANTE
She told of torture used to convict his client (two automatic pistols and guerrilla propaganda) was planted by the police, Perez was discouraged by the recent convictions: "Everyone involved in this case," he said, "has been made an example of even if they were not leftists."

Dr. Dante Ipolito, the judge who convicted Talamante, has since retired, his family threatened by vigilantes because he did not pass heavier sentences on the defendants.

Talamante received three years, the minimum sentence under the state of siege offenses. With good behavior, which the prison authorities claimed to be the case, she was eligible for parole after eight months in prison. The question has arisen in many minds: why hasn't Talamante been paroled since she has served nearly double her legal sentence?

American Embassy officials, sensitive about widespread criticism of their dealing with the Talamante case, maintain she is responsible for not receiving parole because she appealed her conviction.

Embassy officials claim that Ambassador Robert Hill spoke directly with Argentine Interior Minister Angel Robledo to request Talamante's release. Under the state of siege laws, detained persons come directly under executive power. The Embassy declined to give the details of Robledo's apparently negative response to Ambassador Hill's request.

Embassy officials make no effort to conceal their annoyance over Talamante's handling of her case which has received considerable attention in the U.S. They feel that her first mistake, once on trial, was to tell Judge Ipolito that she had been kicked, beaten and tortured by Azul police upon her arrest.

She claimed that police had tortured her by applying severe electric shocks to the joints of her toes, fingers and knees and to her thighs, teeth and breasts during interrogation. She said she had also been threatened with rape.

Her second mistake, the thinking goes, was to refuse to accept the guilty verdict and to appeal to a higher court to establish her innocence. Had she not appealed the verdict, she might have been paroled and deported as early as last October, Embassy officials claim.

On February 2, according to Embassy officials, her appeal was submitted to the provincial court in La Plata which will decide to reopen the case or uphold Talamante's conviction by the end of February. (It had been reported in October that Embassy officials said she had dropped her appeal).

When visited by a consular official on January 28, she was supposed to have expressed her desire to leave Argentina "as soon as possible," hoping to be expelled after the appeal.

Because her visa has expired since imprisonment, her release will be automatically followed by her arrest by Argentine immigration officials who will protest her immediate deportation, the Embassy sources claimed.

Olga Talamante

Some 100 people including the parents of Olga Talamante marched on the Argentine Consulate in San Francisco on November 10 in a demonstration marking the one year anniversary of Olga's imprisonment.

At the same time, Mr. and Mrs. Eduardo Talamante made their third visit to the Argentine consulate in an attempt to seek their daughter's freedom.

According to an Olga Talamante Defense Committee member, the U.S. State Department and the Argentine Government have been deluged with petitions and letters urging Olga's immediate return to her family in the U.S. "In reply, officials of the two governments said they would see to it that she was released immediately after sentencing was passed because she would have already served the minimum time of eight months. Yet, in the two months since her September 17 sentencing, there has been no action to fulfill these promises."

A year ago, Olga and 12 Argentine friends were arrested at a barbeque party in Azul, Argentina. Following her arrest, it is reported she underwent four days and nights of torture by electric shock, beatings, and continual threats of rape.

Today, Olga's family continue to keep a quiet vigil in their Gilroy home waiting for news of Olga's release. People wishing to help can do so by sending donations to OTDC, P.O. Box 1313, Oakland, Ca. 94604.

Memorandum

TO : SAC, SAN FRANCISCO (7-855) (P)

DATE: 11/14/75

FROM : SA MICHAEL C. HENRY

SUBJECT: HEARNAP

On 11/10/75, during coverage of a demonstration at the Argentine Consulate General, 870 Market Street, San Francisco, by the OLGA TALAMONTE Defense Committee, an unidentified participant in the demonstration identified the main speaker and spokeswoman of the Talamontes as MARIA ACOSTA. ACOSTA was further described as a member of the San Francisco Mime Troupe.

During the course of a conversation with SA HENRY, ACOSTA stated that she was a member of the Mime Troupe and a old friend of the TALAMONTE family.

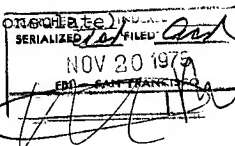

Review of San Francisco indices revealed MARIA ACOSTA was the Subject of Bufile 100-465208, SF file 100-71897, and LA file 100-77408. ACOSTA has been involved, at least since 1971, in radical activities. She has been reported as a member of "Los Mascarones" (The Masked Ones), a Mexican guerilla theater group. NANCLARES ADVISED THAT ON NOVEMBER 6, 1975, AN INDIVIDUAL WHO IDENTIFIED HIMSELF AS BOB BARBER, TELEPHONE NO. (465-9544), A FRIEND OF THE TALAMONTE FAMILY, TELEPHONICALLY CONTACTED THE ARGENTINE CONSULATE. BARBER SPOKE WITH NANCLARES AND STATED THAT MRS. TALAMONTE WISHED TO PRESENT A PETITION TO NANCLARES AT 10:30 A.M. JUST BEFORE THE DEMONSTRATION BEGAN. NANCLARES ADVISED BARBER THAT HE WOULD NOT RECEIVE MRS. TALAMONTE AT 10:30 A.M., THAT HE HAD NOTHING TO DO WITH OLGA TALAMONTE'S LEGAL SITUATION IN ARGENTINA, AND THAT THE ARGENTINE CONSULATE GENERAL WAS NOT THE PROPER CHANNEL FOR SUCH A PETITION. BARBER INDICATED THAT THEY WOULD ATTEMPT TO PRESENT THE PETITION IN ANY CASE.

10. TO CONTINUE WITH MISS TALAMANTE'S CASE IN ARGENTINA, ~~CRIMINAL~~ FILED 27
NOT HEAR OF HER AGAIN UNTIL SHE WAS ARRESTED IN AZUL ON OCT 20 11 42 PM '75
NOVEMBER 10, 1974, ALONG WITH ABOUT A DOZEN ARGENTINE NATIONALS. FRANCISCO

FROM BUREAU BY ROUTING SLIP

M. Henry

11. ALMOST IMMEDIATELY AFTER HER ARREST, A MASSIVE LETTER-WRITING CAMPAIGN WAS MOUNTED ON HER BEHALF BY THE "OLGA TALAMANTE DEFENSE COMMITTEE." IN ADDITION TO HUNDREDS OF LETTERS FROM THE U. S. ON HER BEHALF, WE RECEIVED A PETITION FROM SWEDEN AND CORRESPONDENCE FROM AS FAR AWAY AS TANANARIVE AND TASMANIA. THE LETTERS AND TELEGRAMS DIFFERED FROM THE MAIL USUALLY RECEIVED URGING HUMANITARIAN SUPPORT FOR JAILED U. S. CITIZENS. IN OLGA'S CASE, FROM THE OUTSET HER SUPPORTERS SEEMED LESS CONCERNED WITH HER GUILT OR INNOCENCE THAN IN CASTIGATING THE "FASCIST" GOA FOR HAVING ARRESTED HER AND THE "IMPERIALIST" U. S. FOR AIDING AND ABETTING THIS ACTION. MUCH OF THE MAIL WAS ABUSIVE IN TONE AND ONE LETTER FROM BERKELEY WAS THREATENING TO ME PERSONALLY AND HAS BEEN TURNED OVER TO THE FBI.

12. CURIOUSLY, THOUGH AWARE OF THE CASE, THE LOCAL OPPOSITION PRESS (WHICH HAS OFTEN TAKEN UP THE CUDGELS FOR MANY PERSONS BELIEVED VICTIMS OF GOA OPPRESSION) HAS REFRAINED FROM RAISING ANY BANNERS FOR OLGA AND HER CODEFENDANTS.

13. THROUGHOUT THIS CASE, THE GOA FROM ALL EVIDENCE AVAILABLE TO US HAS IN NO WAY DISCRIMINATED AGAINST MISS TALAMANTE IN THE PROSECUTION OF HER CASE. NOR, ACCORDING TO MISS TALAMANTE HER-

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

SELF, HAS SHE, WITH THE EXCEPTION OF THE TIME IMMEDIATELY FOLLOWING HER ARREST, BEEN MISTREATED DURING HER INCARCERATION. THOUGH LOCAL PRACTICES DIFFER FROM U. S. LEGAL NORMS, WE HAVE EVERY REASON TO BE SATISFIED THAT MISS TALAMANTE RECEIVED DUE PROCESS UNDER ARGENTINE LAW. THIS, DESPITE THE FACT THAT THE GOA WAS HEAVILY ENGAGED IN COMBATING A SERIOUS TERRORIST PROBLEM. NOT ONLY IN APPLICATION OF ARGENTINE POLITICAL NORMS BUT IN PERSONAL CONTACTS WITH SENIOR GOA OFFICIALS, I HAVE FOUND THEM IN EVERY CASE TO BE HEOPFUL WITHIN THEIR RESPECTIVE COMPETENCES IN DEALING WITH THIS MATTER.

14. NOR CAN IT BE OVERLOOKED THAT THE GROUP IN AZUL WERE "MONTONEROS" AND THAT THE MONTONEROS ALONG WITH THE ERP ARE OUTLAWED TERRORIST GROUPS DEDICATED TO DESTROYING THE PRESENT ARGENTINE GOVERNMENT. IT WAS A GROUP WITHIN THE MONTONERO ORGANIZATION WHICH KIDNAPPED AND MURDERED OUR CONSULAR AGENT IN CORDOBA, JOHN EGAN, A FRIEND AND FORMER CONSTITUENT OF SENATOR MANSFIELD.

15. CONCLUSION: I AM NEITHER MISS TALAMANTE'S JUDGE NOR HER JURY. SHE WAS GIVEN A FAIR TRIAL AND WAS CONVICTED. WE WILL, OF COURSE, CONTINUE TO PROVIDE HER WITH ALL APPROPRIATE PROTECTIVE SERVICES AND INSURE THAT SHE CONTINUES TO HAVE FAIR TREATMENT FROM THE ARGENTINE COURTS AND PENAL AUTHORITIES. WE WILL ALSO CONTINUE TO SEEK HER REMOVAL FROM THE COUNTRY SO AS TO MINIMIZE IRRITATION TO OUR BILATERAL RELATIONS WITH ARGENTINA. THE LONGER SHE IS HERE, THE MORE THE CASE BECOMES A CAUSE CELEBRE WITH CERTAIN ELEMENTS OF THE U. S. PRESS, AND, THUS, THE GREATER THE LIKELIHOOD OF AN ARGENTINE REACTION. HENCE, IT IS IN OUR INTERESTS TO GET HER OUT OF HERE AS EARLY AS POSSIBLE. NOTHING WOULD PLEASE ME MORE THAN TO SEE HER DEPORTED TOMORROW. MEANWHILE, HOWEVER, I SEE NO NEED FOR US TO BE APOLOGETIC ABOUT THE PROTECTION SHE HAS BEEN AFFORDED BY THE USG THUS FAR (A CONCLUSION FULLY SUPPORTED BY THE RECENT INSPECTORS' REPORT). ON THE CONTRARY, WE HAVE GIVEN MORE TIME AND EFFORT TO HER CASE THAN TO ANY PROTECTION CASE IN THE RECENT HISTORY OF THIS POST--EFFORT WHICH HAS INCLUDED OVER FIFTEEN VISITS BY EMBOFFS TO AZUL. FURTHER, I SUGGEST THAT IF CRITICISM PERSISTS IN CONGRESSIONAL AND PRESS CIRCLES, WE MAKE AVAILABLE TO THEM INFORMATION REGARDING MISS TALAMANTE'S BACKGROUND. THIS IS NOT A POOR LITTLE GIRL WITH SAD EYES WHO INNOCENTLY MADE A WRONG TURN ONTO A ONE-WAY STREET.

AS PRACTICED IN ARGENTINA.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ SECTION 1 OF 2 BUENOS AIRES 7042

FOR ASSISTANT SECRETARY ROGERS FROM AMBASSADOR HILL

1. UPON RECEIPT OF YOUR TELEGRAM, STATE 239889, I CAREFULLY REVIEWED THE FILE TO SEE IF THERE WAS SOME APPROACH WE MIGHT HAVE OVERLOOKED IN OUR EFFORTS TO FIND A SOLUTION TO THIS TROUBLESOME PROBLEM. AS A RESULT, I FIND THAT THIS EMBASSY
HAS TAKEN EVERY COURSE OF ACTION WHICH OFFERED POSSIBILITIES OF RESOLVING THE CASE.

2. OUR EFFORTS TO SECURE MISS TALAMANIE'S RELEASE FROM PRISON, OR, FAILING THAT, TO INSURE THAT SHE RECEIVED FAIR TREATMENT FROM LOCAL JUDICIAL AUTHORITIES, ARE OBLIGATIONS IMPOSED ON US BY CONGRESSIONAL STATUTE AND FOREIGN SERVICE TRADITION. IN FULFILLING THESE OBLIGATIONS, WE FELT WE WERE ACHIEVING TWO OBJECTIVES: A) PROTECTING MISS TALAMANIE'S RIGHTS AND HOPEFULLY SECURING HER FREEDOM AT THE EARLIEST POSSIBLE DATE; AND B) AT THE SAME TIME REMOVING AS EXPEDITIOUSLY AS POSSIBLE AN ISSUE WHICH THREATENED TO DISTURB OUR RELATIONS WITH ARGENTINA.

3. FROM MY LATEST REVIEW OF THE CASE, HOWEVER, I HAVE SOME DOUBT THAT MISS TALAMANIE AND HER MORE ARDENT SUPPORTERS FULLY SHARE OUR CONCERN FOR RAPIDLY ACHIEVING OUR OBJECTIVE OF HER EARLY RELEASE AND DEPARTURE FROM ARGENTINA. IN ATTEMPTING TO SECURE HER RELEASE, WE HAVE REPEATEDLY BROUGHT HER CASE TO THE ATTENTION OF THE HIGHEST LEVEL AUTHORITIES IN THE GOA COMPETENT TO DEAL WITH THE MATTER, E.G., VIGNES, ROCAMORA, ROBLEDO, ETC.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

IN WASHINGTON YOU HAVE RAISED THE CASE BOTH WITH AMBASSADOR ORFILA AND AMBASSADOR VAZQUEZ AND MOST RECENTLY WITH THEN FOREIGN MINISTER AND NOW INTERIOR MINISTER ROBLEDO. I THE LATTER INSTANCE, YOU SECURED HIS PROMISE TO SEEK EARLY RELEASE OF MISS TALAMANTE. ROBLEDO CONFIRMED TO ME UPON HIS RETURN FROM THE U. S. HIS INTENTION TO HONOR THE COMMITMENT. THUS, OVER THE LAST SEVERAL MONTHS WE KEPT THE TALAMANTE CASE CONSTANTLY BEFORE SENIOR OFFICIALS AND WERE FINALLY ABLE TO REACH AN AGREEMENT WITH THEM TO USE THEIR DISCRETIONARY AUTHORITY TO BRING THE MATTER TO A SUCCESSFUL CONCLUSION. HOWEVER, BY A VOLUNTARY ACT ON MISS TALAMANTES PART, I.E., THE DECISION TO APPEAL THE CASE, OUR EFFORTS CAME TO NAUGHT. IN STATE 231451 ROBLEDO WAS REPORTED TO HAVE TOLD YOU HE WOULD TALK TO HER DEFENSE LAWYER RE DROPPING HER APPEAL SO THE EXECUTIVE COULD ACT TO REMOVE HER. WE FIND IT CURIOUS THAT TWO DAYS AFTER WE RECEIVED THE TELEGRAM AND BEFORE ROBLEDO RETURNED TO BUENOS AIRES THE DEFENSE ATTORNEY PHONED US AND SAID HE HAD BEEN FIRED BY TALAMANTE AND HER CODEFEDENTANTS, THUS REMOVING ROBLEDO'S LEVERAGE.

4. WE MUST, OF COURSE, CONTINUE TO SEEK MISS TALAMANTE'S RELEASE OR AT LEAST TO MAKE CERTAIN SHE CONTINUES TO RECEIVE FAIR TREATMENT. I WISH, HOWEVER, TO BRING TO YOUR PERSONAL ATTENTION SEVERAL DISTURBING ASPECTS OF THE CASE WHICH CAST DOUBT ON MISS TALAMANTE'S OWN COMMITMENT TO GAINING HER FREEDOM AT THE EARLIEST MOMENT. HER SUPPORTERS, BOTH HERE AND IN THE U. S., MAY HAVE OBJECTIVES WHICH GO BEYOND SECURING HER RELEASE FROM JAIL. WHY, FOR EXAMPLE, DID SHE THWART EFFORTS TO SECURE HER REMOVAL FROM THE COUNTRY? IN MY OPINION, THIS MAY WELL BE PART OF A BROAD AND WELL-ORCHESTRATED EFFORT TO CREATE PROBLEMS FOR THE GOA AND THE U. S. REMEMBER THAT HER FRIENDS ARE MONTONEROS WHO ARE DEDICATED TO THE OVERTHROW OF THE EXISTING SOCIO-POLITICAL SYSTEM. NOR DOES HER BACKGROUND, GIVEN BELOW, SUGGEST THAT SHE IS AN INNOCENT IN ALL THIS.

5. BACKGROUND: OLGA TALAMANTE ARRIVED IN ARGENTINA ON AUGUST 5, 1973 AS A TOURIST. ON DECEMBER 6, 1973 SHE REGISTERED WITH THE EMBASSY AND MADE APPLICATION FOR THE EXTENSION OF HER PASSPORT D 14ITEQU ISSUED MAY 30, 1973 AT SAN FRANCISCO AND LIMITED IN VALIDITY BECAUSE SHE HAD ALLEGED TO HAVE LOST A PREVIOUSLY ISSUED VALID PASSPORT.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

6. IN APPLYING FOR HER PASSPORT EXTENSION MISS TALAMANTE ROUTINELY COMPLETED AN EMBASSY REGISTRATION FORM GIVING HER ADDRESS AS RECONQUISTA 365, BUENOS AIRES. THIS ADDRESS PROVED TO BE A FALSE ONE. ON INVESTIGATION WE DETERMINED THAT THERE IS NO SUCH ADDRESS ON RECONQUISTA STREET. THE 800 BLOCK OF RECONQUISTA STREET IS A SLUM AREA CONSISTING OF SHABBY TENEMENT-TYPE ROOMS AND B-GIRL NIGHT CLUBS CATERING TO SEAMEN AND DRIFIERS.

7. WE HAVE NO ADEQUATE EXPLANATION WHY MISS TALAMANTE CHOSE TO GIVE A FALSE ADDRESS TO THE EMBASSY. HOWEVER, THE GIVING OF A FALSE ADDRESS WOULD APPEAR TO SUGGEST THAT MISS TALAMANTE FELT SHE HAD SOME GOOD REASONS OF HER OWN TO MISLEAD THE EMBASSY ABOUT HER TRUE WHEREABOUTS IN ARGENTINA.

3. TO IMPUTE TOO MUCH TO THE FACT THAT MISS TALAMANTE GAVE A FALSE ADDRESS ON HER REGISTRATION FORM WOULD NOT BE FAIR TO HER AND IF IT HAD BEEN AN ISOLATED INCIDENT WE MIGHT WRITE IT OFF AS A SIMPLE ERROR. LIKEWISE, THE LOSS OF TWO PASSPORTS IN 1972 COULD, IF SEEN AS ISOLATED INCIDENTS, BE ATTRIBUTABLE TO BAD LUCK. HOWEVER, ACCORDING TO A REPORT IN OUR FILES, SHE WAS ARRESTED ON FEBRUARY 14, 1972 ON THE COSTA RICA-NICARAGUAN BORDER AND CHARGED WITH POSSESSION OF COMMUNIST LITERATURE. REPORTEDLY, HER LUGGAGE CONTAINED NUMEROUS PAMPHLETS, BOOKLETS, ETC., OF LITERATURE OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY OF NICARAGUA, LITERATURE SUPPORTING ANGELA DAVIS, AND LITERATURE OF A CUBAN-ORIENTED TERRORIST GROUP--THE (FSLN). THE POSSESSION OF PRO-CUBAN LITERATURE AND THE FACT THAT MISS TALAMANTE LOST TWO PASSPORTS MAY BE UNRELATED. BUT IT DOES GIVE GROUNDS TO SPECULATE, AS THE FBI REPORT DID, THAT HER LOST PASSPORTS MAY HAVE ENABLED HER TO CONCEAL TRAVEL TO CUBA. HER ACTIVITIES WHILE IN CENTRAL AMERICA, MOREOVER, MAKE IT CLEAR SHE DID NOT CHOOSE HER ASSOCIATES IN ARGENTINA ON A RANDOM BASIS. AT LEAST TWO OF THE PERSONS WITH HER IN COSTA RICA/NICARAGUA WERE ARRESTED WITH HER IN AZUL.

9. OUR FILES ALSO CONTAIN A PRESS ACCOUNT STATING THAT MISS TALAMANTE WAS ARRESTED IN CHIAPAS, MEXICO, IN 1972 AND DETAINED FOR ONE WEEK. WE HAVE NO INFORMATION AS TO THE NATURE OF ANY CHARGES AGAINST HER. IT IS SUGGESTED THAT THE DEPARTMENT MAY WISH TO INQUIRE OF EMBASSIES IN MEXICO, MANAGUA AND SAN JOSE CONCERNING ANY RECORDS THEY MAY HAVE IN THIS REGARD.

OLGA TALAMANTE

Over 200 people demonstrated in front of the Flood Building in San Francisco on behalf of Olga Talamante, the 25-year-old Chicana from Gilroy, who is still being held a political prisoner in Azul, Argentina.

Concurrent demonstrations in Seattle, Los Angeles, and Mexico City dramatized the fact that companera Talamante has been held for over 10 months and the U.S. government has refused to press for her release—all the time assuring Olga's family and many supporters that "we are doing the best we can."

As the demonstrations were happening, a press conference was being held in the Argentine Consulate's office with Sra. Refugio Talamante, Ed McCaughan, and other members of the Olga Talamante Defense Committee.

Consul Francisco Licastro, former political secretary to Juan Peron stated that he understood very well what the situation was because he had been imprisoned various times in Argentina.

According to McCaughan, Licastro also stated that "the Argentine police are now being directly run and ordered by the CIA and that they are taking their orders from Washington." (The Consul later denied making these statements.)

McCaughan also said the Consul advised him that Olga's freedom depended upon how much national support there is for her.

On August 4, the State Department Officer, Robert Felder advised the family that a decision on Olga's case was to be rendered within 15 days. A sentencing date of August 28 was confirmed by Congressman Norman Mineta. But on August 27, the U.S. Embassy notified the Defense Committee that, despite the promise of an August 28 sentence, Judge Hipolito has gone on vacation til the end of September, delaying once again Olga's release.
[Editor's Note: Write letters to: U.S. Ambassador Robert Hill, U.S. Embassy, Sarmiento 663, Buenos Aires, Argentina.]

At press time, EL TECOLOTE learned that Olga has been convicted and is now facing a 3-year jail sentence. Under the State of Siege, arbitrary Executive Order is the only thing which will free her.

Source advised that on 9/19/75 source went to the residence of JUAN JOSE VILLA, 201 Lakeview, Apartment 123, Oakland, California, where a number of persons belonging to the Puerto Rican Socialist Party (PSP) were having a party. Persons source learned were there include JOE GONZALES, RICHARD MORALES, OSCAR HERRERA and CAROLINE (LNU), a female from Columbia. Source advised OSCAR HERRERA is due to be on the security force for the 9/20 speaking engagement of LAURA ALENDE, the sister of the previous President of Chile.

Source advised on 9/22/75 that source had attended a meeting on 9/20/75 at the MARTIN LUTHER KING Junior High School on Rose Street in Berkeley. At this meeting HUGO BLANCO, a Peruvian author who writes on various atrocities that occurred in Chile following the coup in which ALENDE was murdered. He writes for a group calling itself the U.S.

Committee for Justice to Latin American Political Prisoners, P.O. Box 4357, San Francisco, California 94101. Source obtained a pamphlet regarding HUGO BLANCO and the fact that this group, USLA, was enlisting people's support to picket President FORD's appearance on Monday, 9/22/75, at 12:00 noon at the St. Francis Hotel in Union Square. Source did not know of any violence planned for this demonstration. This information was promptly furnished to the duty Agent at the Secret Service Office in San Francisco, by telephone by SA KIES.

In regards to the speaking engagement of LAURA ALENDE, source reported the following information on her speech. Source stated that ALENDE talked about the struggle in Chile and that Chile must liberate themselves. People's support was solicited and those persons who are interested and are more than just friends are called compañeros, who are assisting the Chileans in their struggle. LAURA ALENDE stated she has a one month visa this time and has to testify before the United Nations regarding Chile. ALENDE stated Chile should be a lesson to other countries that are underdeveloped where the people and workers believe that in order to be free it is necessary to engage in military struggle and to avoid manipulation through force and capitalism. (Source's handwritten notes regarding the speech given by LAURA ALENDE have been placed in a 1-A envelope for future reference and are not being laid out in full here, as this is quite a long speech) Source also learned that LAURA ALENDE was to remain in the United States for a while but was too sick from an anemia problem to stay for too long a period of time. Source advised that approximately 300-400 people were in attendance at this meeting which was emceed by an unidentified white female. Source went to this meeting with LYNN SISNEROS (phonetic), a white female, 35 years old who works as a waitress along with her daughter at the La Pina Restaurant, 3105 Shattuck Avenue. Her daughter uses an alias of DUNN CASTRO and they are currently residing at 740 The Alameda, Albany, California, telephone number 526-9188. Source had met both LYNN and DUNN at La Pina and learned that LYNN is divorced from a physician who lives and apparently works in Kauai, Hawaii.

Source advised that OSCAR HERRERA, mentioned above, and FELIX KURY were two of the people who provided security for LAURA ALENDE at this meeting.

Source provided pamphlets regarding the following persons or groups which are being placed in appropriate files:

A pamphlet dated 9/17/75, captioned "Statement of the OLGA TALAMANTE Defense Committee regarding OLGA TALAMANTE of Gilroy, California and eight other Argentine people who are sentenced to prison for three years for alleged subversive activities in the town of Azul.

A pamphlet captioned "M.A.S.A. Presenta" which described M.A.S.A. as Movimiento Antimperialista por el Socialismo en Argentina. This pamphlet points out that there will be a M.A.S.A. at St. Peter's Church, 24th and Alabama, San Francisco, on 9/27, at 8:00 p.m. P.O. Box 4430, Berkeley, 94704 was given for M.A.S.A.

Pamphlet entitled "SUNI PAZ", which pointed out that SUNI PAZ is the name of a female who has been singing songs of the Chicano movement and the people's struggle for many years. This pamphlet pointed out she is currently teaching Puerto Rican Studies on the Third World campus at Rutgers University.

Three page pamphlet entitled "United States Committee for Justice to Latin American Political Prisoners, P.O. Box 4357, San Francisco, CA 94101". This pamphlet also captioned "Bay Area USLA Newsletter" and contained information regarding Chile, Dominican Republic, OLGA TALAMANTE, HUGO BLANCO. It also pointed out that persons wishing to join USLA could write to USLA, Third Floor, Eshelman Hall, University of California at Berkeley, telephone number 548-0613, or in care of the above San Francisco P.O. Box.

Pamphlet captioned "Children of CHE". This pamphlet contains information showing that a documentary, a half hour in length, giving a rare glimpse into the life in Cuba today, was produced by KAREN WALD (author of the book "The Children of Che", with the assistance of LINCOLN BERGMAN and ANDRES ALEGRIA, and directed by LOUISE LO. This documentary was to be seen on Monday, 9/22 and Thursday, 10/9, on KQED Channel 9 Television at 6:30 p.m.

Source also provided an eleven page newsletter captioned "Chile Newsletter", Volume II, No. 4, September 1975, Published by Non-Intervention In Chile (NICH). This newsletter contains information relating directly to the problems in Chile and the reasons for the coup there two years ago. NICH gave a P.O. Box of 800, Berkeley, California 94701.

Pamphlet captioned "El Grito de Lares", Declaration of the First Republic of Puerto Rico, September 23, 1868. This pamphlet states that ALFREDO LOPEZ of the Puerto Rican Solidarity Committee and the PSP was to be the main speaker on 9/25 from noon to 2:00 p.m. at the Laney Forum and was sponsored by La Raza Experimental College, Union Estudiantil De La Raza, Alianza Pro-Unidad Obreros Estudiantil.

Source in contact with JOSE BONET determined that BONET has voiced objections regarding various revolutionary groups, communiques being sent to newspapers, and that the newspapers are not printing them right and are always editing them. BONET stated the newspapers have not written the communiques in full and that the "Dragon", a Bay Area Research Collective (BARC) newsletter is going to print them in full from this time on. BONET indicated that "we" spoke about this problem at their last meeting (not disclosing identity of other persons or meeting place or name of the group involved). BONET stated that there was a need for international set ups so all persons involved in the struggle can be aware of what underground revolutionary groups are doing. Source advised that JOSE BONET has told source that he intends to go completely underground and will not attend any public meetings of any groups whatsoever. Source has made arrangements with BONET to be notified by BONET of any meetings he wishes source to attend in his behalf. BONET indicated that he may be moving from his current address, as JOSE LUIS RAMOS is not involved in his, BONET's, current activities. Apparently, there was lack of trust between BONET and RAMOS. Source questioned JOSE BONET on 9/18/75 regarding his reaction to the arrest of PATRICIA HEARST and SLA members BILL and EMILY HARRIS. According to source, BONET did not react to this at all except shrugged his shoulders. BONET did say that in every struggle some revolutionaries must by nature of the struggle be captured by the police. BONET did not indicate any action or activities that he or his group would take in regard to this capture by the FBI of HEARST and the HARRISES.

STATEMENT OF THE OLGA TALAMANTE DEFENSE COMMITTEE

Today, Olga Talamante of Gilroy, California and eight Argentine young people were sentenced to prison for three years for alleged subversive activities in the town of Azul. The sentencing comes after they all were held for ten months without trial, during which time they were tortured by Argentine police.

It is now time for the U.S. State Department to fulfill the promise made to representatives of Olga's parents last April that it will do everything possible to secure her immediate deportation from the country once a formal sentence was pronounced. According to an official of the U.S. Embassy in Argentina, the Immigration Department of the Argentine government has a standing order to deport Olga as soon as the court declares her guilty and passes sentence. This has now occurred and so the State Department and the U.S. Embassy must act now to secure Olga's deportation to the United States so she can be reunited with her family.

The critical nature of the situation is illustrated by the news forwarded by Olga in a letter dated Sept. 2, in which she reports that five more young people were arrested in Azul and tortured, one so badly that his right arm is now paralyzed.

Olga's mother, Mrs. Refugio Talamante, today called upon all progressive people to add their voices to the cry for Olga's freedom. "Even though this news makes us sad, and we feel the pain," she said, "we will continue to struggle. We are strong anyway and will continue fighting for the freedom of Olga and the others who are in jail with her."

DECLARACION DEL COMITE PRO DEFENSA DE OLGA TALAMANTE

Hoy Olga Talamante de Gilroy, California y ocho jóvenes Argentinos fueron condenados a prision tres años por supuestas actividades subversivas en el pueblo de Azul. La sentencia viene después de haber servido diez meses sin juicio y fueron torturados por la policía Argentina.

Ya es hora que el Departamento de Estado de los Estados Unidos cumpla la promesa hecha a los representantes de los padres de Olga el pasado Abril que haría todo lo posible por asegurar su inmediata deportación del país una vez que la sentencia formal fuera dictada. De acuerdo con un funcionario de la Embajada de los Estados Unidos de la Argentina, el Departamento de Inmigración del gobierno Argentino tiene ya una orden lista para deportar a Olga tan pronto como las cortes la pronuncien culpable y pase la sentencia. Esto acaba de ocurrir así que el Departamento de Estado y la Embajada deben actuar enseguida para asegurar la deportación de Olga a los Estados Unidos para reunirse con su amada familia.

Lo crítico de la situación queda bien ilustrada por las noticias enviadas por Olga en una carta fechada el 2 de Septiembre, en la que ella nos informa que cinco jóvenes más fueron arrestados en Azul y luego torturados, uno de ellos de forma tan severa que su brazo derecho esta ahora paralizado.

La madre de Olga, la Sra. Refugio Talamante, hoy ha hecho un llamamiento a todas las personas progresistas que unan sus voces al grito de libertad para Olga. "Aunque esta noticia nos ha hecho triste y sentimos el dolor," ella dijo, "continuaremos la lucha. De todos modos, somos fuertes y seguiremos luchando por la libertad de Olga y de los demás que estan en la cárcel con ella."

EXIJAN LA LIBERTAD DE OLGA Y QUE SEA DEPORTADA A LOS ESTADOS UNIDOS!!

Olga Talamante's Freedom: "no assurances"

Olga Talamante, a Chicana political prisoner in Argentina, may be returning to the United States on or about July 10, if President Isabel Peron believes that she should be deported. However, according to Leonard Weinglass, an attorney, and Ed McCaughan, a personal friend of Olga and a member of the Olga Talamante Defense Committee, there are no assurances that she will be deported.

Weinglass and McCaughan spent 10 days in Argentina last month where they talked to Argentine officials and also saw and spoke with Olga. "Olga seemed to be in good health," said McCaughan. "She was hoping we were going to take her home right then, but that's not the way things turned out."

Weinglass and McCaughan also spoke to the Azul court officials and found out that no criminal charges had yet been brought against Olga until about a week after they left Argentina.

According to Weinglass, if the U.S. Embassy had stepped in before the charges had been made, they might very well have prevented the complaint from being issued. "It is clear that the United States did not involve itself in any effective way," said Weinglass. "In fact, that's been a puzzle to us all along. The Embassy was not aware that Olga was under executive power, they didn't know when we got to Argentina, they never talked to Olga's lawyer, and they never examined the court records to confirm the fact that Olga had been tortured, that her arrest was illegal, that the evidence was manufactured, and that Olga will be detained beyond her criminal process. It's a complete mystery to us that the Embassy did not make the effort to get that information."

Under executive power, according to Weinglass, the Argentine government has the power to detain persons that are 'politically unacceptable' without the need to prove or file any criminal complaint or charges against them.

more Olga Talamante :

For example, for six months Olga had been held prisoner with no charges pressed against her. Even after she goes through the judicial process Argentina's executive branch can still detain her, thus overstepping any decision made by the courts.

As is presently scheduled, Olga will be sentenced the first week in July. The trial judge, the prosecutor and the defense counsel are unanimous in their opinion that Olga will be found guilty and sentenced to a minimum three-year term. This will make her immediately eligible for parole, since by July 10, she would have been in custody the minimum eight months. However, being subject to executive power, Olga can still be detained for an indefinite period of time.

In a letter written to friends by Olga on January 7, 1975, she writes: "Two of the friends presently in jail with us have been found innocent of all charges by the judicial power, but they cannot be released due to being under the executive power. They are free, but they cannot be given their freedom. That gives you an idea of the scene here."

According to Weinglass, during Olga's first four days of detention, medical records showed that she had indeed been tortured. Olga's own account of those four days are described in another letter written January 30: "I was taken to a room upstairs and there I was undressed. I was placed on a bed with my arms and legs open, which were firmly tied to the bedposts. An electronic machine was applied to my nipples, inner legs, vulva, to the joints on my fingers, toes, legs, stomach, teeth, etc. The pain caused by that diabolical machine is impossible to describe. The only way I can explain it is as a burning electric current that bolted my whole body."

As to the conditions which led to Olga's current situation, Weinglass wrote in a report to Senator Alan Cranston and Congressman Norman Y. Mineta: "The weapons which were allegedly found in the house are identical by serial number to weapons found in three other police raids on three different houses. It is the firm opinion of her counsel that the charges are totally dishonest and that Olga is in effect, the victim of a shabby political frame-up."

Olga is not only the victim of a political frame-up in Argentina, but she is also the victim of a political process in the U.S. that is racist. This is made clear by the present U.S. efforts to free two white Stanford University students who were recently kidnapped by an African guerrilla group.

In a letter written January 29, 1975, Olga summed her feelings about her situation: "As news keeps reaching me about the great support shown by so many of you, my spirit grows stronger and my heart dances at the joyful conviction that our cause is on the road to victory. I know that we are presently being punished for having the courage and determination to rise against the injustice and exploitation allowed by a system which feeds and survives on those things, but I also know that your courage and hard work are the rewards of our efforts."

Faculty Protest

To the Icebox:

Olga Talamante, a student of Latin American Studies, recently graduated from the University of California at Santa Cruz, has been arrested and tortured in Argentina. Her arrest was disclosed only after a friend inquired about her whereabouts when she failed to return home as scheduled. For more than a month before that she had been held incommunicado by Argentine police (tortured to obtain a confession). Now she has been formally charged, in violation of the National Security Act of Argentina, the National weapons act and resistance to arrest with weapons.

Talamante is Mexican-born and a naturalized American. Her mother works as a waitress at a cafe in Gilroy and her father as a farm laborer. In a letter to her parents Olga has denied the charges brought against her.

The major charges against Olga Talamante are only valid under the special state of siege declared in Argentina. Under this edict no civil or democratic rights exist. Public meetings are banned, strict censorship exists and the government cannot be forced to produce arrested persons for trial.

While in prison Olga wrote to her parents of her treatment during the initial stages of her interrogation. "We spent four days and nights there (Federal police station) which were pure hell. There was no difference between day and night, as our heads were covered with coarse-cloth bags and we weren't allowed to sleep. We were constantly interrogated and, of course, 'persuaded' with their special electric gadgets to talk. The combination of physical punishment and psychological stress is something they've practiced for a long time, 'cause they're really good at it."

An academic committee has been formed by concerned people on the U.C. campuses as well as other members of the academic community. We strongly urge the US State Department to protest to the Argentine government the arrest and torture of Olga Talamante, and encourage all concerned people to join us in our efforts to win her release.

Argentine arrest hit

SAN JOSE — Residents in this area have rallied to the defense of Olga Talamante, a young Chicana arrested and imprisoned late last year in Argentina, demanding immediate release of the local activist.

Ms. Talamante, a graduate of Gilroy High School and the University of California at Santa Cruz was arrested early in November 1974 along with 12 other persons in the Argentine town of Azul more than 100 miles southwest of Buenos Aires.

She had been in Argentina about 16 months and her arrest was only discovered when friends raised questions with the State Department about her failure to make a planned return home.

—Ms. Talamante and others have been charged with violation of the Argentine National Security Act, the National Weapons Act and offenses and resistance to arrest with weapons. In a recent letter she reported that shortly after being arrested she was tortured through the use of electric shock.

Sr. and Sra. Eduardo Talamante, parents of Olga, have traveled from their home in Gilroy where Eduardo Talamante works as an agricultural worker to San Francisco to meet with Ricardo Elizondo, Argentine consul in San Francisco. The meeting was of little avail according to Sr. Talamante.

DEEP CONCERN

Margarito Guajardo, a young friend of the Talamante's, has organized a petition drive urging that Olga receive a fair and speedy trial.

Guajardo also organized a recent vigil at Sacred Heart Church here in San Jose. Friends and supporters of Olga Talamante from such diverse groups as the Emergency Committee to Defend Democracy in Chile, members of various community groups, the Communist party, and members of the Talamante family attended the vigil.

In an interview with The People's World, Sra. Eduardo Talamante stated that she and her husband had been attacked as welfare recipients who sent a daughter through college on scholarships. "Nunca hemos recibido ni un penny del welfare — We've never received one penny of welfare" she said. Seven years of picking fruit and other crops in this area before Eduardo Talamante finally found steady employment on a ranch in the Gilroy area. "Y si ella se gano esas becas esta porque las merecio — And if she won those scholarships it was because she deserved them."

Olga had a deep concern for the hungry and oppressed people of Latin America and the whole world from the time she was a little girl according to her mother. She was active in MECHA during her student days and had once been deported from Mexico for having literature on the Chicano Movement in her car.

A statement issued after the vigil by the Communist party of Santa Clara County reads in part: "We protest the arrest, torture and announced trial of Olga Talamante. We do not believe Ms. Talamante can get a fair trial in Argentina today in the present climate of governmental political repression. We therefore demand her immediate release and a guarantee of safe conduct back to the U.S.A."

Anyone wishing to help Ms. Talamante is urged to write their local congressional representatives as well as Senators Tunney and Cranston according to Guajardo. Letters may also be sent to the Ambassador from Argentina in Washington, D.C. For further information the Talamante case contact Margarito Guajardo, 13550 Highway 108, San Jose, (408) 251-1864.

Support for Jailed Woman

A drive began yesterday at the University of California in Santa Cruz to free a former Chicano student leader, Olga Castillo Talamante, from an Argentina jail where she has been held for more than three weeks for suspected links with the guerrilla movement.

Provost Richard Randolph of Cowell College told The Chronicle he got in touch with the offices of U.S. Senator Alan Cranston and Congressman Charles Gubser, a Republican who represents Miss Talamante's home town of Gilroy, asking their help in the case.

Responding to press queries and pressure from family and friends, a State Department official in Washington, George Listor, telephoned the Argentine judge investigating the case at the U.S. Embassy in Buenos Aires also planned to send an official to see the young woman in jail yesterday, it was learned.

"We're getting some movement now," said Peter Baird, a friend who said fund-raising committees of support are being organized at Berkeley, Stanford, Santa Cruz and Gilroy. "She was a respected student," Randolph said. "She won honors for her thesis in Latin American studies. She was impressive in her solidity and maturity. This is sort of impressionistic, but I found her a strong presence."

An assistant professor who knew Miss Talamante well, David Sweet, called her a "thoughtful, responsible student."

Sweet said the 25-year-old Miss Talamante, who was graduated in 1973, was active in helping the Farm Workers Union, and when Cesar Chavez came to the Santa Cruz campus she was the student who introduced his speech.

She's very concerned with social issues," Sweet said. "She intended to get an education, then go back to her community and do things. She's not a wild-eyed person at all. Often in confrontations she was the voice of reason."

If she was involved in some revolutionary activity, why did she buy an airplane ticket home in November 1974? We miss her here. She'd be an asset on any campus."

Sweet said that Miss Talamante went to Argentina about 15 months ago to visit an Argentinian couple who had been college classmates.

She was arrested with 12 others at a private home in Azul, a small town 200 miles southwest of Buenos Aires, on November 10.

Argentine authorities said police seized a quantity of arms and literature of the Montonero guerrilla movement. Since then Miss Talamante and the others have been held incommunicado while they are being "interrogated."

Miss Talamante was born in Mexico and became a U.S. citizen two years ago. Like her farm worker parents and three brothers, she grew up working in the fields. She was an outstanding student at Gilroy High before going on to Santa Cruz.

Pat Anderson, editor of the local paper, the Gilroy Dispatch, said that two years ago Miss Talamante was arrested in the state of Chlapas, Mexico, where she was writing her thesis on Indian pottery-makers, and held without charges for a week simply because she had "Chicano literature in her car." She was freed without further incident.

An activist remembered

By Carol Pogash

"She's not any cockamamie, bleary-eyed youth on an ego trip," Olga Talamante's schoolteacher recalled. "There's some orthodoxy to her left-wing politics."

The teacher and half a dozen other friends and relatives sketched a profile of the honors student from the University of California at Santa Cruz who has been in an Argentine jail for nearly a month as a suspected guerrilla.

No charges have been brought against the 25-year-old Gilroy woman. But according to police reports she is being "interrogated" about subversive literature and arms found in the house where she and a dozen other persons were arrested on Nov. 10 in the town of Azul, 250 miles southwest of Buenos Aires.

Her friends in the Bay Area recognize Olga's politics are left of center. They believe she opposes the present regime of President Maria Estela Peron, favoring that of her late husband Juan Peron.

But they doubt she would have become directly involved with the 20,000 young Argentinians of the Montoneros who are said to be responsible for a series of bombings, kidnap threats and other acts of violence against the state. Olga's friends here think her crime might be her association with Argentine activists.

Earlier this month the government declared a state of siege limiting constitutional rights.

Since early autumn none of the persons close to Olga have heard from her. Before communications were severed she wrote her family saying she was a bit homesick and told friends she had purchased a plane ticket home for Nov. 24. Her roots still were in Gilroy.

Born in Mexico, Olga became a child of the California fields. She grew up a woman of the Latino

Before she reached junior high school Olga was picking cucumbers and prunes after school, during vacations and all summer. She worked the row crops with her parents and three brothers in and around Gilroy.

By the time she was graduated from high school the family had switched to garlic picking, a job Olga returned to after receiving her B.A. degree.

No ordinary field worker, Olga used her schooling to help other Chicanos. She was satisfied with her lot but she had a compulsion to improve the lot of others. She crashed through class barriers that separated her from the white affluent society. Although her roots are in poor America her mother said yesterday Olga has never sought wealth.

"Her friends were always saying how much Olga was worth in spirit," said Mrs. Talamante, who works as a dishwasher in the Busy Bee Restaurant in Gilroy.

Olga's tastes are simple. "I would sew all her clothing for her. They were poor but it was the best we had. She never complained," her mother explained in Spanish.

Mrs. Talamante learned English through night school classes but "in important situations like this" she's more comfortable with her native tongue. Her husband only speaks Spanish.

Not speaking English handicapped Olga as a child. Labeled mentally retarded by her teachers, she was placed in the younger grades. By high school she averaged an "A," receiving only one C in four years.

But Olga was no bookworm. Her years in the fields gave her firm muscles and agility. "She lacked the candy bar flab of her classmates," one friend remembers. She played all sports and won a letter in girls' hockey.

She was the one student in a class of 400 who could do everything and did. She was elected president of the sophomore class, secretary and vice president of the honor society during her junior and senior years respectively, president of the American Field Service Committee (an international student exchange program) and president of the Advisory Council, which worked with the principal to foster school reform.

Olga excelled. "She was mature, very generous, reliable and honest," recalls English teacher John Meeker. "She was never in the vanguard of demonstrations. She was more thoughtful and conscientious, more reasonable."

Even at UC Santa Cruz, Olga stood out.

"There was a mutual suspicion between the Chicano and Anglo students. Olga was very effective at bridging that gap without losing her identity. This is a very special person. I have an enormous amount of respect for her," said David Sweet, assistant professor in Latin American studies, Olga's major field.

She quickly established herself as a leader, becoming an official of MECHA, the Chicano student organization. During the school year, she helped organize the migrant children's breakfast program in Watsonville and in summers she returned to the fields, vegetable picking and teaching Chicano children in the labor camps how to speak English.

An organizer of the United Farm Workers on campus, she introduced Cesar Chavez to an audience of a thousand shortly before she left for Argentina in the summer of 1973.

As part of her college education Olga visited southern Mexico to study the Indians there. During her junior year she traveled to Guatemala, Costa Rica and Mexico. "She had a great desire to understand other people," said her boyfriend Ed Escobedo, director of the graduate affirmative action program at UC Irvine.

After graduation from college Olga returned to Gilroy where she picked garlic to save money for her trip to Argentina. She saved $200 and her family put up another $300 to pay for her travels.

"She planned to stay for six months," Escobedo recalled. "We were going to get married when she returned." But Olga, who got a job teaching English, became more involved in the Latin American life and her stay stretched to 16 months so far.

Olga, friends say, understood the risks she was taking. "She wanted to see the situation there and understand the military guerrilla movement. She wanted to know about it," said former high school teacher Meeker.

He told her "It might damage your health physically or mentally and you may not come back or you may be killed." She said she was aware of it and she smiled that old good person smile and said she was willing to "take the chance."

Parents' Plea for Jailed Daughter

The parents of Olga Talamante visited the Argentine consul-general here yesterday to make a Christmas plea for their daughter's release.

The 25-year-old Miss Talamante, a former Chicano leader at the University of California at Santa Cruz, was jailed November 10 for alleged links with a terrorist group.

She has told U.S. Embassy officials from Buenos Aires that she was beaten in a prison at Azul, 200 miles from the capital, and also subjected to electric shock.

Eduardo Talamante and his wife, Refugio, farmworkers from Gilroy, went to see Consul General Ricardo Elizondo at his office here.

They were accompanied by Dr. Ralph Guzman, a sociology professor who taught their daughter at Santa Cruz, and the Rev. Richard Garcia, a priest from Morgan Hill who said a special Mass yesterday for the young woman's safety.

The parents said they were concerned, in view of her charges of mistreatment, and asked Elizondo to transmit their appeal to his embassy in Washington.

The parents, who have had one letter from their daughter since her arrest, learned this week from the State Department that she is to go on trial in a week or two with 12 other persons.

Argentina is currently under a "state of siege," and the 13 are all charged with violating the country's national security act, as well as possession of arms and resisting arrest.

Elizondo told the parents he learned that an American Embassy official and doctor from Buenos Aires had seen their daughter only the day before, and that they had not found "any trace of bad treatment."

He also said he could not intervene in a judicial matter, but that if Miss Talamante is innocent of the charges she would be freed.

"There is nothing we can do here," he told The Chronicle.

Parents beg for release of daughter

The parents of Olga Talamante, the University of California at Santa Cruz honors graduate who is held in an Argentine jail, pleaded their daughter's case yesterday before the Argentine consul-general in San Francisco.

Eduardo Talamante took the day off from his six-day-a-week maintenance job at a Gilroy garlic factory and Mrs. Refugio Talamante had the day off from her restaurant dishwashing job. They brought with them a priest, a professor, two lawyers and three friends for support.

The group spoke to Consul-general Ricardo Elizondo for nearly an hour, seeking to help their daughter, who was jailed Nov. 10 as a suspected subversive. Charges were not brought against Miss Talamante, 25, until recently when, Elizondo said, she was accused merely of resisting arrest.

Two weeks ago Olga told representatives from the American embassy in Buenos Aires that she had been tortured with electric shock.

Yesterday Elizondo denied the charge, saying an American doctor had examined Olga and found no evidence of mistreatment.

Those attending the meeting said the consul-general was "very uptight, very defensive and nervous."

"He assured us at least 10 times that nothing can happen, and that she shouldn't have any problems," said Olga's college friend Peter Baird. "But we expressed our doubts."

"We don't believe she can get a fair trial," Baird said, "because she was held incommunicado for the first few weeks, there's a state of seige in Argentina, she had no attorney, she was tortured and because no charges were brought against her until recently."

While Mrs. Talamante tended to agree, she observed:

"We flew better after we talked to the consul-general. He felt very bad about what has happened, and he said that as a father of a family he understood our situation."

But after the meeting Elizondo said, "My duty is only to inform them of what goes on in Argentina and Washington. As the consul-general, it is not my duty to be involved in political affairs."

Mrs. Talamante, who with her husband and daughter worked in the fields of Gilroy for many years, said the family's efforts were worth it. "I always remember what my oldest son told me: 'If your problem has no resolution, don't worry about it. But if it does, do everything you can.'"

"I feel a lot of pain but I have to stay calm, because I have to keep myself sane and healthy. I don't want to die until I know what will happen," she said.

"We hope she will be home by Christmas," Talamante said.

"And if not by Christmas, by New Year," his wife said. "God is very big and there's no impossibility for him."

Argentine prisoner case studied by U.S.

The United States has expressed formal concern to the Argentinian government over the well-being of Olga Talamante, the 25-year-old Gilroy woman being held as a suspected subversive in Argentina.

Miss Talamante met with a State Department representative in a judge's office in the town of Azul last week and told of being tortured immediately after her arrest Nov. 10 with 12 other persons.

She had complained to the judge, she said, of being subjected to electric shocks and beatings.

The judge told the American representative the complaint had been investigated but "the investigation did not turn up any conclusive evidence to support either the complaint of Miss Talamante or the denial of the detaining authorities," according to a State Department functionary.

"We have asked our embassy to go on record indicating our government's concern for Miss Talamante's well-being and we are requesting more complete information with respect to those allegations of mistreatment," he said.

The representative who met with Miss Talamante found her well, the source said. The young woman reported all marks of her earlier mistreatment had disappeared, he said.

Miss Talamante is currently being held without charges, under provisions of Argentina's state-of-siege laws, in the town 250 miles southwest of Buenos Aires.

Government authorities say arms and "subversive material" were found in the house in which she and the 12 others were arrested.

The U.S. Embassy will help her arrange for legal counsel, the State Department representative said, and the embassy has been assured of continued access to her while she is imprisoned.

"The judge who has jurisdiction over the case has assured us she will be well treated," he said.

In a letter received by her parents in Gilroy last weekend, Miss Talamante said she would be with them today if it were not for her arrest. She was planning to fly home Nov. 24.

"But do to a great misfortune and a grave misunderstanding I am not able to be with you. I think that, in any case, the problem will be resolved shortly," she wrote.

She told of her arrest and said, "Here the young men and women that I know help people a lot, especially the humble people, those in need. That's why I tell you there is a confusion, because none of us attempted to do more than this."

Argentina jails Gilroy woman 'a guerrilla'

It has engaged, by its own claims, in several assassinations, and other terrorist acts.

Miss Talamante went to Argentina as a tourist in August last year and later registered as a student, Embassy sources said.

A Gilroy woman has been taken into custody by Argentine authorities for alleged involvement with the anti-government Montonero guerrillas, diplomatic and other sources said yesterday.

Oiga Talamante, 25, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eduardo Talamante, of Gilroy, reportedly was seized, with 12 other suspected guerrillas three weeks ago in Azul, a city 250 miles southwest of Buenos Aires.

Miss Talamante, whose father is a farmworker, was student body president at Gilroy High School and later studied Latin American affairs in the honors program at the University of California, Santa Cruz.

A naturalized American who was born in Mexico, she was active in Mexican-American student groups at UC and also participated in Cesar Chavez' farmworker organization.

Student friends of Miss Talamante's in the Bay Area said their correspondence contained no hint she might be involved with Argentine guerrillas.

Her letters indicated she expected to return to the U.S. 10 days ago.

U.S. consular sources in Buenos Aires said they had not received any direct word from Miss Talamante, but the American Embassy there was sending a representative to Azul to verify reports that she was in "good condition and was being well treated."

American officials have talked with Argentine authorities in Azul and reportedly were informed that Miss Talamante's case should come up just before Christmas.

She and the others were held under "state of siege provisions" and have not yet been formally charged, sources said. The American woman is represented by Argentine lawyer Alfredo Cuesta.

Details of the arrest are not known, but police authorities said arms and guerrilla literature were found in the private home in which the 13 persons were arrested.

The Montoneros, a militant wing of the powerful Peronist Youth organization, have declared war on President Isabel Peron's government, charging she has not followed the aims of her late husband.

Argentina Jails UC Graduate

A farmworker's daughter from Gilroy is being "interrogated" in Argentina on suspicion of guerrilla activities, it was learned yesterday.

The woman is Olga Talamante, 25, a former student body president at Gilroy High School and an honors graduate in Latin American studies from the University of California at Santa Cruz. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eduardo Talamante.

The State Department in Washington confirmed that Miss Talamante has been held since November 10 in the jail at Azul, a small town about 200 miles southwest of Buenos Aires.

A Berkeley friend of the young woman, Peter Baird, said he learned of the arrest by way of a letter on November 23. On contacting the State Department, which hadn't until recently been aware of the case, he was told that Miss Talamante was arrested with 12 other persons in a house where arms and subversive literature were seized.

Baird, who was a classmate at Santa Cruz, said Miss Talamante "grew up working in the fields like her parents" and was active in the Mexican-American student organization and the farm-workers organizing drive.

She went to Argentina to "visit friends and travel," said Baird, and was expected home in late November in time to celebrate her birthday (which was yesterday) and spend Christmas in Gilroy.

It is understood that she had a plane ticket to fly home November 24.

Baird expressed concern that the "interrogation" that she has been subjected to might be an euphemism for torture. "We feel the State Department has been dragging its feet on this case," he said.

In Washington, a State Department official denied this. He said: "We telephoned the embassy at Buenos Aires last night saying we're very anxious to get a report.

"We don't know why she was in Argentina. We certainly hope she hasn't been involved in problems with the law."

Consular sources in Buenos Aires told the Associated Press that Miss Talamante is suspected of links with the Montonero guerrillas.

The Montoneros are the militant wing of the large Peronist Youth organization, which declared war on President Isabel Peron's government, claiming it is not following the wishes of the late Juan D. Peron.

The Montoneros have claimed responsibility for assassinating federal police chief Alberto Villar and his wife a month ago, and other terrorist acts.

Miss Talamante is Mexican-born and a naturalized

She and her companions are being held under Argentina's new "stage of siege" laws and will not be charged until a "complete interrogation" has taken place, authorities said.

Re Bureau 0-1 dated 8/10/72.

TALAMANTE was arrested 2/14/72 by the Nicaranguan police at the Costa Rican border when luggage in her automobile was found to contain communist literature pertaining to the Communist Party of Nicaragua and the Frente Sandinista Liberacion Nacional (FSLN). She was accompanied by one HUGO ANIBAL PEREZ.

On 4/5/72, San Francisco submitted LHM with description, student status, record checks and negative informant contacts.

By letter 5/24/72 Legat, Buenos Aires identified PEREZ as one of a group of students who occupied the National College in Azul in 1962 and a member of the Youth Front of Azul. He was reported to have been arrested for having written slogans against the Argentine Armed Forces.

This casts a reasonable doubt as to whom the communist literature in the automobile belonged. San Francisco has no desire to further build upon a foundation supplied by the border police of Nicaragua. No report will be submitted UACB.

OLGA CASTILLO PALLEMENTE

(00:5F) Re Managua let 2/15/72.

On 5/23/72, General Alberto S. Caceres, Chief, Federal Police of Argentina (protect), advised that the records of the Federal Police of Argentina (FPA) show that HUGO ANIBAL PEREZ, Argentine citizen and holder of Argentine Passport 53804, is the son of CIPRIANO and FILIPINA PEREZ. He was born 9/9/42 in Azul, Buenos Aires Province, Argentina. He is a journalist and has resided at San Martin Street 1111, in Azul. He has Argentine Identification document #5.392.844.

The FPA records show that on 10/29/58 PEREZ was one of a group of students who occupied the National College in Azul during a political demonstration and in 1962 was reported to be a member of the "Frente Juvenil de Azul" (Youth Front of Azul). He was reported to have been arrested for having written slogans against the Argentine Armed Forces, however, no dates or additional details were available on this matter. In March of 1965 he was listed as the Secretary of "Nucleo de Vanguardia Juvenil del Movimiento de Integracion y Desarrollo (MID)" (Nucleus of the Young Vanguard of the Movement of Integration and Development). On 11/7/67 he was listed as a member of the Board of Directors of the Azul Chapter of the Plastic Arts Union.

This source advised that the above activity on the part of PEREZ would indicate that he has been associated with groups possibly subversive to the best interests of the Argentine Government, however, there is no indication that he has been associated with any groups actively dedicated towards the overthrow of the Government. He is not known to have been associated with the Communist Party in Argentina.
